B-482 Tissue Cassette Label Obsolescence

Effective date: November 1, 2021
Countries: Global

Summary

This is a first notice to customers that B-482 Tissue Cassette Labels will be going obsolete. B-482 will be going obsolete due to its specificity with the obsolete BSP31 Label Attachment System. In order to continue to support our BSP31 system customers, we will be offering our B-481 polyester material as a replacement. The B-481 material will withstand tissue processing when mechanically adhered to tissue cassettes with the BSP31 system. We will continue to sell B-482 as long as we have material in inventory available for sale; however, we ask that all customers begin transitioning to their corresponding B-481 part according to the table below:
